PREMIER CUTS LINK OPENING BIG BRIDGE ACROSS THE FRASER

Costly Structure at New Westminster Dedicated in Presence of Ministers and Members of Legislature—Royal City Makes Holiday to Celebrate Event of "National Importance"

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Nov. 15 (P).—British Columbia opened a new $4,000,000 front door to its visitors today. To the accompaniment of bands, bagpipes and the screaming whistles of fifty-odd tugboats in the Fraser River below, Premier Pattullo cut with an acetylene torch the chain across the 7,500-foot bridge bearing his name, opening the new approach to the province's western mainland urban centres.

The Premier, who braved a driving sleet to perform the official opening, termed the ceremony as an event of "national importance."

"The welfare and development of each of the provinces is of significance and importance to Canada
as a whole, just as the integrity of our Dominion is the deep concern and interest of each of the provinces," the Premier said.

JUST A FORERUNNER
To Hon. P. M. Macpherson, Provincial Works Minister, under whose direction the huge span was constructed, the bridge was a forerunner of "greater development to come in the provincial highways system."

It was a civic holiday in New Westminster as Premier Pattullo, ministers, the Legislature Opposition and civic dignitaries from Victoria and Vancouver came to see the dedication of the new structure,
replacing the old low, narrow bridge
that served for thirty-three years
as the southern entrance to Lower-Mainland cities.

Citizens of the Fraser River city lined the flag-bedecked streets as the official motorcade drove up the new approaches to the span, bordered by sodium lights designed to guide motorists through fog.

THE FIRST TO PASS
The stern-wheel propelled tug Flier, the first to pass under the old bridge when it was opened in 1904, steamed under the new 150-foot high span, determined to be the first to travel under the new structure.

DEATH RESULT OF KIDNAPPING

Confinement in Old Coal
Mine Fatal to Victim
Of Outrage

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Nov. 15
(P).—The body of Dr. James I.
Seder, seventy-nine, retired minister and missionary to Japan, was taken to St. Paul, Minn., tonight for burial at the home of a son, while the state called a special grand jury to consider charges against three ex-convicts it accused of kidnapping the elderly doctor for $50,000 ransom.

Dr. Seder died early today after a two-day fight against pneumonia, which physicians said "undoubtedly"
was brought on by his ten-day confinement in an abandoned coal mine.

Prosecutor E. E. Winters, Jr., said
he will demand the death penalty for Arnett A. Booth, forty-six; John Travis, twenty-four; and Orville Adkins, twenty-four.

They were held under $50,000 bond each on a Federal charge of extortion. All waived preliminary hearing. R. E. Vetterli, of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said each had signed confessions, and that no ransom money had been paid.

At Washington, Director J. Edgar Hoover, of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said the trio had admitted Dr. Seder was the first of a series of kidnappings plotted.

Crowds Leave Nanking As Victorious Legions of Japanese March Onward

By highways, rivers and canals
the civil population was leaving Nanking by thousands, spurred by reports of terrible destruction inflicted on Soochow by Japanese bombing planes. The normal population of Nanking is over 1,000,000.

CITY A SHAMBLES
Seven hundred bombs within thirty hours were said to have made a shambles of Soochow, city of 260, 000 some fifty miles west of Shanghai, keypoint of China's "Hindenburg Line" and formerly one of the country's most picturesque and prosperous cities.

Government officials remained in Nanking. The Government announced determination to defend it to the last. This raised fears Nanking would suffer punishment similar to that of Soochow.

Twelve Others Seriously Injured in Palestine Disorders—45 Arrested

JERUSALEM, Nov. 15 (CP-Havas).—
Forty-five Jewish Revisionists were arrested tonight as British authorities curbed both Jews and Arabs after the bloodiest twenty-four hours in recent Holy Land history left eight dead and twelve gravely injured.

A patrol of twenty men was imposed on Rehovoth, a new Jewish quarter of Jerusalem, at the inhabitants' expense. Of the forty-five Revisionists, followers of Vladimir Jabotinsky, twenty-four were interned in a concentration camp at Acre. The others were placed under police surveillance.

POLICEMAN MUTILATED
A policeman was mutilated late today by an Arab who attempted to shoot him and, failing, hacked at his face with a knife. A military patrol rescued the policeman after he had been cut several times. The Arab escaped.

Earlier, seven persons were killed
and twelve injured in savage clashes between Jews and Arabs in Jerusalem. Tel Aviv, Jaffa and elsewhere.
One of the injured subsequently died.

The Revisionists, sometimes called
"Jewish Nazis," are a militant group advocating direct action to make Palestine an independent Jewish nation. They do not belong to the World Zionist Organization, and their leader, Vladimir Jabotinsky, is barred from the Holy Land.

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 15 (P).—Parched-throated sailors, snatched from death by the coast guard cutter Mendota
after their Greek freighter, Tzeny Chandris, went down off Cape Hatteras, brought back today stories of a dramatic fight for life against the odds of shark-infested waters, stormy seas and conditions that drove one man insane.

A bright red gash across the nose of Captain George Coufopoulos, the master of the little vessel which sank with the loss of seven lives,

SOCIAL CREDIT ADVISOR GIVEN SIX MONTHS IN JAIL FOR LIBEL

Mr. Justice Ives to Recommend G. F. Powell for Deportation—Says Douglas' Representative
Partly to Blame for Growing Turmoil
And Disrespect for Law in Alberta

Member for Edson Described
As Glorified Messenger Boy

EDMONTON, Nov. 15 (P).—Six months in jail with hard labor, accompanied by a recommendation for deportation, was the sentence imposed on G. F. Powell, British Social Credit authority, by Mr. Justice W. C. Ives in Supreme Court of Alberta today. Mr. Powell was convicted of publishing defamatory libel knowing it to be false.

Declaring signs had not been lacking that there was growing turmoil and disrespect for the law in Alberta, Mr. Justice Ives said: "Mr.
Powell was in part responsible. The next step that could be expected was turbulence, and when that developed, breaches of the peace could be expected. His Lordship remarked:
"Sentencing of Mr. Powell, who came to Alberta last June from London as an adviser to the Alberta Social Credit Board, came after Joseph H. Unwin, Social Credit Member of the Alberta Legislature for Edson, was sentenced on the same charge last Saturday."

Home Secretary Outlines
Programme for Making Great Britain Safe

LONDON, Nov. 15 (P).—A three-point preparedness programme to safeguard the United Kingdom against airplane attacks was outlined by Sir Samuel Hoare, Home
Secretary, in the House of Commons
today.

Moving second reading of the Government's Air Raids Precautions
bill, he told the House that "we have got to make the airplane as little dangerous to the British Empire as we have made the submarine."

The Home Secretary underscored his remarks with a picture of the devastation bombs might wreak on England. His plan envisaged:

IN THE PROGRAMME

1. An air force strong enough not only to defend the Empire, but strong enough to maintain the offensive.

2. Anti-aircraft guns, searchlights, and other weapons of ground protection, far more numerous and accurate than in the Great War.

3. A system of air-raid precautions to "insure the country against panic and insure that services without which a civilized community cannot exist will be maintained."

Stormy Scenes Mark Action for Slander in Paris Courtroom

Former Premier Tells of Government Bribe Being Paid to Extreme Rightist Leader— "Traitor" and "Liar" Heard From Witnesses

PARIS, Nov. 15 (U.P.).—Former Premier Andre Tardieu, in a courtroom alternately ringing with cheers and laughter, today faced Colonel Francois de La Roque, extreme rightist leader, and called him a "traitor."

Tardieu testified on behalf of fifteen men whom De La Roque sued for slander on the ground that they charged him with accepting Government "secret funds."

Tardieu declared these charges were true, that De La Roque, formerly chief of the disbanded Fascist Croix de Feu, actually received 250,000 francs (about $8,300) in Government bribe money for his pledges of support. He concluded his testimony with:

"De La Roque is a traitor. He always has been a worker for his own profit. I address myself to the

FARCE BRINGS MANY LAUGHS

"Room Service" Played at Royal Victoria Theatre Last Evening

An uproarious farce in the most literal sense of the words, "Room Service," by John Murray and Allen Boritt, was presented by the George Abbott Players to a rapturous audience at the Royal Victoria Theatre, last evening.

A masterpiece of noisy altercation in a hotel bedroom, between the hotel management and a group of theatrical directors who couldn't meet their bills, the situations had novelty and appealed to the risibilities of the audience to such an extent that, on numerous occasions, the dialogue was drowned in laughter.

The scapegoat of the whole unfortunate but funny business, Leo Davis, provides most of the entertainment. Author of the play with the play (much-talked-about but never seen), this innocent young man from Oswego is forced to pose first as a bedridden victim of leg-worm, then as a bathroom suicide, but even these shady devices fail to make the way of escape clear for the theatrical associates who are trying to "skip" the hotel without paying their bills.

Earlier De La Roque's admission he wrote Tardieu letters containing phrases like: "I am ready to put myself at your orders," raised rounds of derisive laughter.

The court adjourned until tomorrow.

MOST REV. JOHN C. CODY, D.D., BISHOP OF VICTORIA, has returned from a two-months' visit to Eastern Canada, during which he went to his former parish at Eastview, Ontario, and spent some time in Ottawa, where his parents live. He left Victoria, almost immediately after arriving here, for a tour of his diocese, and does not expect to get back until the end of this week.

ADVISOR IS GIVEN SIX MONTHS' TERM

first charge, which also embraced the second. Powell was a member of the Social Credit Secretariat in London founded by Major O. H. Douglas, "the father of Social Credit."

Hugh Calais Macdonald, K.C., counsel for Mr. Powell, and George H. Steer, K.C., conducting the private prosecution, made brief remarks to His Lordship after all evidence had been submitted.

"GLORIFIED MESSENGER"

Before passing sentence, Mr. Justice Ives said Unwin could not be considered an accomplice, and therefore he could accept his testimony.

The evidence was chiefly between Powell and Unwin, he said. Unwin was more of a "glorified messenger boy," and did not do anything without approval of his superiors.

His Lordship pointed out Unwin had said he got the copy of the "Bankers' Toadies" pamphlet complete. Powell, he added, admitted writing or preparing it, except the inclusion of the names. When Powell saw the proof that included the names, he made no protest and only commented names of organizations were not included.

Referring to both Powell and Unwin when giving evidence, His Lordship said Unwin obviously was a reluctant witness when it came to implicating Powell. Powell was "evasive and dodgy," said His Lordship. He also said he found the "Bankers' Toadies" publication was a libel.

SAYS POWELL "PROPAGANDIST"

After saying he found Powell guilty of referring to growing turmoil and disrespect for the law, His Lordship said Powell called himself a technician. This, he added, was a misnomer. "You are a propagandist and nothing more," His Lordship said.

The recommendations for deportation, said His Lordship, will be made to the Secretary of State.

In addressing the judge, Mr. Macdonald said no object was to be gained in reviewing and pointing out discrepancies in the evidence. The situation was one of conflict between Powell and one other. Mr. Macdonald said he hoped His Lordship would bear in mind the necessity of there being no reasonable doubt as to guilt.

Mr. Steer said he agreed with Mr. Macdonald there was no necessity of reviewing the evidence. "Unwin's story and Powell's story cannot be reconciled," he said. Evidence connected Powell with the publication of pamphlets, he added. He also remarked on Unwin's loyalty to the party with which he was associated.

RECALLED TO STAND

Recalled to the witness stand in the afternoon, Powell said he did not know on what color paper the printer's copy of the pamphlet was prepared. Recalled by Mr. Steer, Unwin said he could not recall if the proof from the printer was one or two sheets.

Major Douglas, from London last May, announced that Powell would go to Alberta to be his chief commissioner to co-operate with the Alberta Social Credit Board. Powell has been associated with Douglas for the past eighteen years. In private life, and prior to coming to Alberta, he was a consultant on commercial efficiency and lived in London.

MUST SERVE TERM FIRST

OTTAWA, Nov. 15 (U.P.).—Immigration authorities said tonight a recommendation for deportation contained in the sentence today against George F. Powell, British Social Credit technician, could not be carried out until he had served the six months' prison term imposed on him by Mr. Justice Ives of Edmonton.

Powell's case, officials said, would come before the Immigration Department in a hearing under the Immigration Act. The hearing might be held while he was serving his sentence, but a possible decision ordering his deportation would not be carried out until he was released from jail.

HAS SCHEME OF PENSIONS

R. W. Mayhew Outlines Proposal for Workers to Esquimalt Liberal Meeting

A scheme of pensions for all men and women in work in Canada, which he intends to promote, was briefly outlined by R. W. Mayhew before the Esquimalt Liberal Association in St. Paul's Parish Hall last night, when he continued his campaign in the Federal by-election.

Giving his full endorsement to the Federal Government's unemployment insurance proposal, Mr. Mayhew said that he would go even further, and would have some part in bringing in a pensions scheme for every man and woman earning money in Canada.

SCALE OF PENSIONS

"I am convinced that no fear does more to keep us down than that of being dependent upon someone or some institution, when we reach the point where we can no longer work," Mr. Mayhew declared. To remove that fear, some form of pensions was necessary, and he would take a share of the promotion of such a scheme. He stated that during the past five years he had been working out such a scale of pensions, in an endeavor to arrive at the amount each individual should receive, and had introduced the system among his own employees.

"If it is good for civil servants and teachers, it is good for every man and woman earning money," he asserted.

HELP FOR ESQUIMALT

Mr. Mayhew hoped that, if elected, he would be able to do something to help the Esquimalt municipality, stating that at the Union of British Columbia Municipalities in Kamloops some time ago he had recommended that the Dominion Government should be petitioned to make a flat grant to Esquimalt in compensation for the taxes the municipality should be receiving for government property. He would do his best to secure some assistance along that line.

The present Government was spending a lot of money in Esquimalt, Mr. Mayhew continued, and was taking up a lot of the district's unemployed. Defence was very necessary on this coast at present, and Canada could not always depend on the United States for protection.

OPPORTUNITY FOR SERVICE

Speaking of his reason for entering politics, the candidate said that he had not sought nomination, but saw an opportunity of serving the city and party that had served him and the men working for him for so many years. He had chosen the Liberal party because he believed that it was trying to be fair, and was the party that could bring prosperity to the country.

Mr. Mayhew referred to his experience in business, and said that he had never quit a job until he had finished it. He spoke of building up his business by hard work and the loyal co-operation of those with him, and declared that he was not afraid for anyone to go among his men to find out "how the old man stood" with them.

The election must be won by team work, the candidate concluded, and he did not want to win on any basis other than fairness.

C. H. O'Halloran, K.C., campaign manager, in introducing Mr. Mayhew, spoke of his long and valuable association with public affairs in the city, and of his understanding of the problems of the working man through difficulty of securing work, unsatisfactory wages, and sickness.

As an employer of ninety men in Victoria and 150 in Vancouver, Mr. Mayhew was also in a position to understand the employer's point of view.

J. F. Mesher, president of the Esquimalt association, was in the chair.

Mr. Mayhew later attended a meeting of the Oak Bay executive, held in the Oak Bay Theatre hall, to make personal contact with the members. Tonight he will address a meeting of Ward Five electors at Liberal headquarters.

of Soochow, having swept westward after the capture of Kunchan, twenty miles east of Soochow.

HUNDRED MILE LINE

Japanese lines still were some 125 to 150 miles southeast of Nanking, but foreign military observers predicted they could reach the Chinese capital by mid-December. The Japanese were advancing in a great fan-shaped formation nearly 100 miles long.

Dr. H. P. Eitinger, Austrian official in the Chinese medical service, reported many wounded and the entire staff in a Soochow dressing station simply disappeared when the station was hit by a huge bomb. A fleet of motor trucks and motor cars facilitated the rapid advance west of Shanghai, while foreign experts estimated had conquered 4,000 square miles since Shanghai fell last month—and the Shanghai defence system began to crumble.

North China dispatches told of a grave Japanese threat to Tsinanfu, capital of Shantung province. Even Chinese reports indicated the city was in peril.

King Gordon Demands Embargo on Shipment Of Materials of War

In Campaign Address, C.C.F. Candidate Says Canada Providing Metals for Japan—Claims New Depression on Way in Dominion

THREE speakers espoused the cause of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation at a campaign meeting in the City Temple here last night in support of J. King Gordon, the candidate in Victoria's by-election for a seat in the Federal House.

They were M. J. Coldwell, M.P. for Rosetown-Biggar, Sask., and national chairman of the C.C.F.; Mrs. Winona Grace MacInnis, wife of Angus MacInnis, M.P., Vancouver East, and Colin Cameron, M.P.P. for

Comox, and one of the C.C.F. members in the Provincial Legislature, Nigel Morgan was chairman.

TWO-POINT PLEA

Professor Gordon was the last speaker on the programme. He made a two-point plea to electors to demand the Government of Canada immediately place an embargo on shipments of war materials for Japan, and to insist the Government of Canada take some steps to guarantee economic security to the masses of the people in advance of a recurrent depression. Two-thirds of his address was taken up with a review of the international situation and Canada's position in the light of recent occurrences in the Orient.

The candidate quoted from an evening newspaper showing that Canada had shipped to Japan 71.7 per cent of aluminum imported into that country and 97.7 per cent of the copper. "So you see how enormously Canada is helping Japan," he said.

SAYS CANADA INVOLVED

Elaborating on his first point—embargo on war materials—the candidate said: "Canada is involved in the Far East in a very inconspicuous way. We, as a people of a civilized country, are horrified by the atrocities of the Japanese and at the same time we are engaged in shipping war supplies to that country. Statistics show that Canada is shipping four times as much metals to Japan as in July of last year. I feel this is an issue we cannot afford to let pass at this time. There is legislation in effect to make it impossible to export war materials. It was enforced against Spain and why should it not be enforced against Japan in the interests of our national honor? Should we not insist on our Government placing an embargo against the shipment of those materials to a warring nation?"

Professor Gordon stated action had been taken in other countries by organizations and by the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, the labor unions of South Africa and the United States, the co-operative movement in Great Britain and other groups to boycott the Japanese nation.

Beautiful Scenes in Beacon Hill Park

A heavy mantle of snow over trees and shrubs made a fairyland of city parks on Sunday, and there were many beautiful scenes in Beacon Hill Park. Top: Snow-clad cedars and firs give a Christmas-card touch to the landscape. Middle: Rustic benches in the park were buried deep, and trunks and limbs of trees were outlined in white by the wind-blown snow. Lower: Sunday morning's sunshine dappled the white carpet with shadows of the snow-laden trees. On the right, the Chinese bell hangs under a white dome.

SLOW THAW CLEARS CITY

Only Minor Damage During Week-End—Surface Water Causes Little Trouble

The first snowstorm of the winter ceased at about 3 o'clock on Sunday morning, and later, after the sun rose, a gradual thaw began. Snow continued to lie everywhere throughout the day, however, and it was not until yesterday morning that roofs of buildings began to show through and a general clearance was brought about.

Wet and slippery conditions prevailed yesterday, but the snow melted slowly and no trouble was caused with flooding in the city or suburbs.

A large number of trees and limbs were brought down in the city by the weight of the snow, and several men were engaged all through Saturday night and the early hours of Sunday morning in clearing the obstructions and debris. A few men were also required for that purpose later on Sunday.

CARE WITH BRIDGE

All through the night of the snowstorm men were at work clearing the Johnson Street bridge, which required careful watching, as the bridge will not lift if the weight of snow becomes too great.

Part of Esquimalt was plunged into darkness on Sunday night, when falling branches disrupted the electric light lines. No. 1 section of the electric installation at Esquimalt was without lights through the night. Men were engaged all day yesterday in repairing the short circuits, but it was not possible to correct all the damage in the time available and some houses were still without lights last night.

SNOWPLOUGH AT WORK

In Saanich the snowplough was at work for ten hours from 4 a.m. on Sunday clearing the principal roads. The snowfall was not as heavy in the northern end of the district as it was in the city. Only a few trees were broken or brought down in Saanich.

A small amount of drainage trouble was experienced in Oak Bay yesterday, but there, as elsewhere in the district, the ground was dry and quickly absorbed the water as the snow gradually thawed. A number of trees were broken down or damaged by the weight of snow.

Trouble crews of the B.C. Telephone Company were engaged on Sunday and yesterday restoring partially disrupted services. Snow formed a thick coating on all wires, subjecting them to considerable strain.

SCHEDULE MAINTAINED

After the snowplough cleared the Main street on Saturday, driving conditions were greatly improved, and Vancouver Island Coach Lines, Limited, reported satisfactory road conditions to all points north. All transport services were maintained to schedules throughout the week-end. Private motor cars, which were temporarily abandoned on the Main street, were recovered on Sunday or yesterday.

Victoria residents made the most of the heavy snow which lay everywhere and the children especially had a glorious time. Several parties climbed Mount Douglas and Mount Tolmie, and many children got out their sleds, while some adults traveled farther afield for skiing.

As late as last night there were still many patches of wet snow lying in the city and suburbs, but the thaw was continuing.

Minimum and maximum temperatures recorded at Gonzales yesterday were 31 and 44 degrees, respectively, and the precipitation was .98. The 5 p.m. forecast for Victoria and vicinity was fresh to strong northeast winds, shifting to easterly; cloudy and cool, with sleet or rain.

VANCOUVER, Nov. 15 (C)—Rising temperature brought rain to Vancouver tonight and relief from a snowstorm which disrupted communications and delayed transportation over the week-end.

The city centre was clear of snow tonight, but about an inch remained in the outlying residential areas. Big white flakes continued to fall in the Fraser Valley, east of here, however, where almost a foot was reported at some points. All roads were reported passable.

UNDER SNOW BLANKET

Almost all of the Kamloops and Okanagan areas lay under a foot of snow. Vernon and Penticton received a foot of snow from a rain-snow storm, and fell over the week-end, and Kamloops reported an eleven-inch fall. It was raining in the West Kootenay around Nelson, with only a slight covering of quickly-melting snow left on the ground.

Fraser Valley roads, blocked by drifts which previously held up milk trucks, were reported clear tonight. Only the highway between Agassiz and Rosedale was impassable. It was flooded by water from a slough when run-off ditches became clogged with snow.

Old-Timer and Son Find Health By Using Wondro

Piles, Stomach Troubles and Twitching Disappear

For years this well-known Calgary old-timer suffered from piles and stomach trouble with no relief until he was advised to take Harris' Wondro. The results were so remarkable that Mr. Gordon writes to tell Mr. Harris that he has had no return of his former afflictions. His son, too, was benefited to such an extent that he could take up heavy work again with no ill effects. Read Mr. Gordon's tribute to Harris' Wondro in the following letter:

"Dear Sir: I suffered for years with piles and only those who have them know what it means. I also had alteration of the stomach and would be in bed for days at a time and tried everything I could think of, but with no results whatever. I was advised by my physician to have an operation as I seemed to be getting worse.

"At last a friend advised me to try Harris' Wondro, and I am thankful to say that after I had given it a fair trial, my piles and ulcers had gone completely. I found the remedial effect of the treatment to be lasting as I have found no return of either complaint.

"My son suffered for seven years with frequent, periodic twitching attacks which would upset his whole system. He received medical treatment, including special medicine from the States, but was no better. He decided to try Harris' Wondro and the results were beyond our expectations. He is now stronger and looks better than he has for twenty years and is doing heavy work in the country with no ill effects. In fact, he has not had an attack for over four years since taking Harris' Wondro. I cannot praise your medicine enough, for it has sure been a God-send in our home. Yours truly, James A. Gordon, 323 Third Avenue Northeast, Calgary, Alberta. Phone 113449."

ARE SENTENCED TO SIX MONTHS

Raymond Penny and Patrick O'Malley Are Punished On Theft Charge

Raymond Penny and Patrick O'Malley, charged with the theft of a coat and trousers from the premises of H. J. Chong, were before the police magistrate in city court yesterday morning for sentence after his Worship had had time to consider the evidence against the pair over the week-end.

Before the court proceeded to pass sentence, C. L. Harrison, city prosecutor, submitted the record of the two, which was a very long one in each case, and more especially with regard to Penny, who had been repeatedly in trouble from the Great Lakes westward, covering the past six years.

O'Malley, before sentence was passed upon him, made another attempt to gain the sympathy of the magistrate, setting out a continuation of the plea he had made when his case was reviewed before the court.

He said that he did not care about himself, but for the sake of his mother in Nova Scotia he sought consideration.

Slow in Calling For His Diploma

SEATTLE, Nov. 15 (AP)—Delbert A. Ford, sixty-eight, Vancouver, B.C., received his diploma from the University of Washington today, although he had been a student for forty-three years after he earned his degree as a "bachelor of pedagogy," the old name bestowed upon school teachers.

Ford, who was graduated in 1894, said the delay in obtaining the diploma wasn't the university's fault.

"I just didn't get around to it," he said.

APPEAL TO VENALITY

The doctrine propounded by the Liberals in the present by-election campaign, that one of their number should be sent to Ottawa because a Liberal Government is in power, is not in accordance with the best political ethics. The implication is that this constituency need not expect favored political treatment, presumably in the matter of monetary expenditures, unless it is represented by a member who is giving support to the party in power. The appeal, therefore, is to cupidity; it is in the nature of an attempt to bribe the elector; it is an intimation that the gospel of patronage is paramount; it is, indeed, perfunctory to a proclamation of the doctrine of graft, which, wherever applied, degrades politics.

The logical supposition in the minds of those who suggest that at this stage only a Liberal member could be of use to this constituency is that the electors are venal. In other words, their support may be bought. That is, seemingly, the Liberal theory and one upon which they are working in the propaganda on behalf of their candidate. It betrays a state of morals that is regrettable in any political party, for it is tantamount to saying that "to the victors belong the spoils," and that only those constituencies that are faithful to a party in power need expect to have their claims satisfied.

Since the Liberals have concentrated on the appeal to the electorate to support their candidate on the ground that he will have the ear of the powers that be, it is fairly obvious that this is the issue of their campaign. The inference is that they believe the majority of the voters will be willing to exercise their franchise for sordid reasons, and in the process, in some instances, sacrifice honor or principle for pecuniary gain or private advantage. Thus a system of party politics is placed on a low plane. It is difficult to believe that in any constituency where there is a conception of honesty in political administration such an argument as that advanced by the Liberals will have effect. It is one quite contrary to the principle of fair dealing.

CHANGING OPINIONS

The fault supposedly is Nature's that man should be as fickle as he is. Instances crop up all the time of how judgment changes. There is the case of those in British Columbia who are anxious that Japanese should be given the vote and who are now the chief protagonists of a boycott of Japanese goods because of the undeclared war in the Orient. These two policies do not dovetail. They are antagonistic. There is the case, too, of those hosts of Americans who demanded that their Congress should pass a law to keep the United States out of war. The same hosts are now the most active in demanding drastic action, force if necessary, to support economic pressure against Japan.

How is peace to be established on earth if a natural disability of the human race is failure in continuity of purpose, and while there are kaleidoscopic changes in public opinion? Obviously much of the failure experienced in fostering more pacific international relations lies in the variability of the human outlook, which seemingly can be changed in nations almost overnight because of some happening. This implies that it is events and not principles that govern human mentality. There are countless instances of this in history. It is a fact that has so far been overlooked in any movement for the promotion of universal peace. The fact is that while Nature may be blamed for man's lack of continuity of purpose there are numerous examples of how that continuity is maintained in the individual but not in the mass. It is a question of the right kind of education which will steady and stabilize the mental outlook. So far there has been utter failure in imparting such steadfastness to the human race, and this is because character-building is so largely ignored, or there is misdirection in attempts to fashion it.

Sir Edward Mellanby, possibly the greatest of food specialists, has been pointing out where the general diet in Great Britain fails, and what he has to say may well have reference to other countries as well. "The bulk of the foods that make up that diet—cereals like flour, rice and oats, and also lean meat, pork, poultry, white fish, vegetable oils, sugar and jam—are deficient," says Sir Edward, "in certain mineral elements, especially calcium, and in most of the vitamins." He claims, moreover, that the deficiencies in mineral salts are not made good by the enormous consumption of the national beverages—tea, coffee, beer and spirits. There are foodstuffs rich in essential substances which are known as "protective foods," and, "unless they are eaten, poor physical development and certain forms of ill-health result." Those protective foods include milk and other dairy products, eggs (especially the yolk), vegetables (especially green vegetables), liver and other glandular organs, fat fish such as herring, mackerel and salmon, fish oils (e.g., cod liver oil) and fruit.

It appears there is no necessity in the pursuit of health to confine oneself to the protective foods. The diet ought to be mixed but should include most of the protective foods because they are energy-giving. The trouble is that the protective foods are relatively expensive, so that, to quote Sir Edward, "the poorer the people the greater the proportion of non-protective foods in their diet." He points to the example of the inhabitants of Tristan da Cunha, where until lately there was no bread or other cereal to eat. There the main articles of diet are milk, mutton, fish eggs and potatoes. "The result is there is no rheumatism or arthritis, there has never been a death in childbirth, the teeth of the inhabitants are relatively free from caries and incomparably better than in the case in Great Britain."

"Far better would it be," says Sir Edward in an article in The London Times, "if the dietetic habits of Tristan da Cunha were more widely copied here (in Great Britain) by the general adoption of prolonged breast-feeding of infants, increased milk and egg consumption, and substitution of potatoes and other vegetables for much of the sugar, cereal and cereal products now eaten." "These," he says, "are the simple teachings of modern dietetics. Parents and others controlling the diet of young people, in whose hands the future lies, may or may not make use of the new knowledge for themselves, but they ought, in any case, to see that their offspring and the rising generation get a chance, the only chance, of attaining a far better state of physical and mental development and health than they themselves possess. For whatever the State can do, and it can do much, the solution of the problem lies ultimately in the hands of the individual members of the community. Wisdom and enlightenment will have their reward."

A GREAT ACTOR

One of the last of a great generation of actors has passed from the stage in the death of Sir Johnston Forbes-Robertson. The measure of the consummate art which he brought to bear on the hundreds of plays in which he took part is difficult of appreciation in these days of moving pictures when scores of camera shots may be necessary before what is estimated to be the true rendition of some happening is achieved. Sir Johnston, unlike so many modern actors, had the genius for almost every role, light comedy, of sheer tragedy, realism or whimsical fantasy. From the age of twenty-one to sixty-three he was on the stage, and his whole career there was one of accomplishing more and more in holding up the mirror to nature by seemingly less and less effort. He was the greatest Hamlet of the modern stage. His appearance always was striking, his voice always commanding; he had an innate charm of mind which lent a glamor to his acting and sympathy and sincerity were bespoken in his every gesture and word. It was in Hamlet and in the part of the Stranger in "The Passing of the Third Floor Back" that his art reached its greatest heights. As Mr. S. Morgan-Powell, of The Montreal Star, said on the occasion of his death: "He was for many years to unnumbered thousands of theatre-goers the archetypal of all that was finest, more uplifting, most inspiring in the English theatre, on both sides of the Atlantic."

RELIGIOUS PERSECUTION

Whoever is in opposition to Bolshevism in Russia is regarded as counter-revolutionary. Freedom of speech and liberty to follow the dictates of conscience have gone by the board. Among the latest arrests are those of Bishop Innocent, of the Orel district, twelve priests, two monks and fifteen other persons. The charge against them is that they have had a part in a "counter-revolutionary religious organization." Apparently whatever they did, or are suspected of doing, was due to a too literal interpretation by the Church of the rules for the coming elections in December 12. The constitution promises freedom of conscience and unrestricted canvassing. Bishop Innocent's conscience is now on trial because he is said to have offered unsuitable prayers and preached sermons which attracted too many people of "anti-Bolshevik mentality."

The Russian Ideal of a free constitution, if it did not have so many tragic repercussions, would be an amusing commentary on the Bolshevik doctrine of "ourselves alone," for the height of selfishness and self-sufficiency is to deny the right of free expression of religious thought. There is obviously religious persecution still being perpetrated as a part and parcel of the Soviet doctrine of atheism.

Discontent is the want of self-reliance; it is infirmity of will.—Emerson.

By Sandham Graves

You have heard, of course, the song of the rails, with its peculiar adaptability to the human mind and its readiness to supply a tune for whatever may be your own particular set of thoughts. The song comes from the rails as train wheels pass over the ends of each short length of track. It takes its tempo from the locomotive, beginning with a solemn beat—click—click—click. It is then that the song of the rails is really down to business. You must supply the words, but it will supply the refrain. Inevitably, you do supply the words; unless you are a cold-blooded mortal, over whom the power of outward suggestion has no authority. The song of the rails dips into the innermost recesses of your thoughts, and comes up with your chief thought, as a rule. For businessmen it sings—"Will Jones be there?" For college students it chants—"I hope Grumpy is gone." For anyone, the song is different, and the words are self-suggested. For the rails once sang—"I am going to war!" and for not quite so many it later chanted—"Home, and all's well." Now, and here is the reason for all this, the song of the rails is doomed to extinction. Railways on this continent are experimenting now with a continuous track, without joints, welded together in mile-long strips which will be seamless. Stretches of seamless track have been tested up to a length of 5,700 feet, and the railway is laying sixty miles of the new, "velvet" track this year. Say goodbye to the song of the rails. In a little while you will hear it no more.

Eighty million years ago, according to research students of the American Museum of Natural History, dinosaurs were common on this continent. From the fossilized coal-forming beds of the Mesozoic Cretaceous period have been taken dinosaur prints a yard wide, indicating a three-toed monster some thirty-five feet tall, with a sharp, pointed snout. One of the prints at a single, walking step. Fossils of the animal and evidence of prehistoric jungle growth were found in the same area, in discoveries said to fill in a gap of some 30,000,000 years in the habitation of dinosaurs on this continent. One of the footprints was preserved in a form of sandstone, and will be mounted at the museum intact. Quantities of isolated bones were also found, some suggesting the existence in those days of a type of monster not yet recorded in earlier researches. At the present, it is being called "the mystery dinosaur." It is probably true that if you dug down almost anywhere in the earth's crust you would come upon relics of the animate and inanimate past, and sometimes Nature supplies the information gratis by thrusting whole layers of previously-buried rock high above the surface of the surrounding ground. In Egypt, for instance, you can see with your naked eye evidence of pottery fragments buried in successive layers to a depth of several hundred feet. It is, of course, the number of towns or villages which have lived there, one on top of the other, may be clearly counted; pointing to the fact that each fresh civilization rises on the ashes of the last, with different forms and different customs. It is, of course, interesting to see how late on what traces our are will leave behind, in turn. Possibly a few holes in the ground, a few stretches of desert land denuded of tree life, a light layer of crumbling stone and mortar, the evidence of past civilizations. One of the scraps of old-fashioned steel and other metals, might be all that would survive, say, one million years. It is true that research men decades hence may find fossils on top of the hills of Palestine—or they were built by the Crusaders.

People of mature years will remember that Jingle about the pigs and potato-peelings, wherein it was said that if you fed the peeling to the pigs, the pigs would one day feed you. Well, history has come round, and the pigs are now feeding the peeling to the pigs. The latest policy announced by the Agricultural Administration Board across the border is one to bonus producers to feed surplus potatoes to pigs. They are going to be paid to do it, too. Some up to $1.00 a pig. This is a high price to receive for potato peelings for all tubers given to livestock producers, who, in turn, will give the spuds to the bacon-producers, and so on. It is a little complicated, but I know it will work. Pigs will eat potato peelings, and they will just grunt and snort for more if you give them potatoes, whole! Of course, in the backward days, when we had to be reminded about peeling and pigs with a jingle, the potato-producer, the pig-producer, the cattle-producer, and even the milk-producer were all the same fellow. We called him a farmer. In his simple innocence he fed the peeling to the pigs anyway. Why, he even took skim milk from the dairy and brought up calves on it. Then, slave of the soil that he was, he gave turnips and things to the Winter feed the cows, so that they would give milk, and planted more potatoes, so that he would have some more ones left over for the pigs. He actually worked at his business. If he were living now, I have no doubt that he would first study the Speech from the Throne, and then the Budget, and then the votes in Supply for the Department of Agriculture. After that, he would be ready to decide just what crop it would pay to raise, and which crops would give the best returns by not being grown at all. Admittedly, the producer has a hard time of it. For instance, I don't think the Speech from the Throne gave him a hint of help this year in this production-for-bonuses problem.

Glancing Over Sport

Do you know that Howie McPhee's 102-yard run in the McKechnie Cup English Rugby match against Vancouver on Remembrance Day at Brockton Point was the longest jaunt in the history of the game? Checking over records, we find that the previous long run for a try was made forty-four years ago, which means that was back in 1893. It was made by a fellow named George Surman playing for Randwick at Sydney, Australia, when he galloped ninety-five yards "through all opposition. Playing in the same game with Surman was none other than J. J. Pyke-Smith, of Vancouver, one of the best known Rugby officials in the Dominion. . . . Well, I had a perfect day Saturday with my selections, ably assisted by the weather man. The Dominions came through and the rest of the selections were moved over. As a matter of fact the weather man behaved so miserably that he put all his golfers on the shelf Sunday and here we were all prepared to play in the Graphic Arts tournament at the Uplands. . . . Congratulations to Jim Mesher and his Victoria United eleven for breaking the local's long losing streak on the Mainland in inter-city soccer. It has been anywhere between eight and a dozen years since Victoria won across the water. . . . A fellow asked me, the other day, the definition of a duffer in golf. I answered: "A fellow who takes seven strokes and five minutes to get out of a bunker." He walked away disgusted and none the wiser. —J.D.

Effects of Noise

Irritating noise has a powerful effect on the whole system, according to the following statement of a New York specialist: "Every sound that is irritating constitutes a nervous shock. That is, unless we have built a bulwark against such injuries, and few of us are able to do so without definitely lowering the keenness of hearing. Is it any wonder that the great North American disease—nervousness—appears to be on the increase, shored forward at a rapid pace with the growing volume of noise?" . . . At that rate trolley cars and the man in the flat above are causing serious impairment to our physical well-being. But we manage to go to work every day just the same. . . . Snow on Saturday morning was no surprise to us. We dreamed of snow Thursday night and again on Friday, and were then firmly convinced something would happen. . . . and how it did. . . . In Australia, a doctor whose plane was forced down in the bush killed a stray cow with a small knife and kept himself in food for ten days. Why didn't he milk the cow and then ride it home?—G.B.

There's Money in It

There's money in a big waistline. I don't doubt this statement just ask Martin "Blimp" Levy, 627, pound pachyderm from Boston. Levy has a waistline of eighty-four inches and it is worth approximately $500 a week to him. . . . Born in Boston, April 30, 1910, Levy is twenty-seven years old and spent the last seven years of his life in approximately 1,000 matches, and has won about 90 per cent of them. It is hard to figure out just how he could lose after seeing him at the local palace d'equilibrium. . . . Ties, shoes and socks are the only items of wearing apparel the "blimp" can buy stock. When it comes to a suit of clothes he wears thirteen yards. A pair of trousers cost $13.75. . . . Married eight months ago to a Virginia girl, Martin Levy, twenty-seven-year-old mainman, has dark curly hair, brown eyes, dark complexion and a beard. One of these days he is going to get a razor working on his whiskers and plans to reduce, and then, girls, you'll see a good-looking man.—S.T.

Poor Pedestrians

Those of us who had to pad the hoof during the week-end snow storm—and particularly on Saturday, when we had to make the daily round of calls in the city—were grateful to those considerate drivers of automobiles who gave a "thought" to the discomfort of pedestrians in the slushy streets, and slowed down sufficiently to avoid adding to their misery. But there were a few thoughtless motorists who drove at a pace too fast for the prevailing conditions. One of the most noticeable particularly was a truck operator who drove along Government Street past the Empress Hotel at such speed that the big wheels of his vehicle sprayed a number of unfortunate pedestrians, ourselves included, with a torrent of slushy snow.—R.M.

LODGE HAS BANQUET ON ITS ANNIVERSARY

CHEMUNOVS, Nov. 15.—Knights of Pythias Lodge, No. 80, Chemunovs celebrated its third birthday on Saturday evening, when some ninety members and partners participated in a banquet. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Savaev, Mr. and Mrs. R. Ryall, of Duncan, and Aubrey Clarke and Mr. Lupton, of Vancouver.

CONSERVATIVES GIVEN SUPPORT

Hon. Grote Stirling and Mrs. George Black, Yukon, Coming Here

Hon. Grote Stirling, P.C., M.E.I.C., Federal member for Yale, and Minister of National Defence in the Cabinet of Mr. Hon. R. B. Bennett, will be the principal speakers at a mass Conservative meeting in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium here next Friday night. Mr. Stirling will speak in support of Bruce A. McKelvie, Conservative candidate in the Victoria by-election.

There will be a number of other speakers, and the meeting will be the wind-up of the first week of the two-week campaign. Mr. McKelvie will also speak at the meeting on another issue.

Another interesting speaker on the schedule, announced by Conservatives, is Mr. George Black, member of the House of Commons for the Yukon. The place and date for this gathering is to be announced later. Mrs. Black will likely review some of the aspects of the proposal to annex Yukon Territory to British Columbia.

MEETING TONIGHT

Tonight Mr. McKelvie will open his speaking campaign with a meeting in St. Mary's Hall, Oak Bay, and besides the candidate, Herbert Anson, M.P.P., Victoria, and for mayor of Oak Bay and mayor of the capital city, and W. H. M. Haldane, vice-president of the Conservative Association, will speak. This is to be the first platform meeting of the campaign.

The campaign committee has announced the opening of an additional campaign room in Oak Bay. It has been located at 2004 Oak Bay Avenue and the telephone number is Garden 1138. The main committee room is at the corner of Fort and Government streets in the city and telephones are Empire 2173 and Empire 2811.

Arrangements are now being made for meetings in Esquimalt, the Spanish and in the different wards in the city. Announcements concerning these meetings will be made as the campaign progresses.

Letters to the Editor

No letter to the Editor will be inserted except over the proper signature and address of the writer. This rule admits no exceptions. No letter should exceed 100 words in length.

LETTER OF THANKS

Sir.—The president and directors of the Rotary Club of Victoria, take this opportunity of thanking all those who so willingly and generously gave of their time, and assisted them with goods for sale at their recent superfluity sale, and to The Daily Colonist, The Victoria Times, their reporters and staff for publicity so generously given.

The net receipts from the sale amounting to $427, will be used only for Rotary charities, and for disbursement to deserving worthy organizations in Victoria.

It is impossible, as we would like, to express our thanks personally to each and every one of you for your assistance, as most donations of goods were anonymously given, and we therefore ask you to accept our public thanks as though personally given.

ROTARY CLUB OF VICTORIA.
T. P. McConnell, Secretary,
120 Pemberton Building, Victoria,
B.C., November 13, 1937.

THE BY-ELECTION CAMPAIGN

Sir.—The Liberal candidate is quoted as saying in Oak Bay, "for once let Victoria all on the Government side of the House and thereby obtain the advantages that are undoubtedly accruing to her. There is much that can be done and must be done for Victoria in particular."

Victoria has frequently been represented by members on the Government side, but she has never prostituted herself in the hope that she shall receive some special consideration for this accident of political circumstance.

In view of the statement that has been made on behalf of thousands of Conservatives in this constituency, I challenge the Liberal candidate to specify the advantages that he states "are undoubtedly accruing to her," and what those things are that "must be done for Victoria in particular," and when he has so specified them will he please tell the electors of this constituency exactly how his election can bring these things to Victoria, and also explain how these will be denied to her if he is not elected.

It would be well not to insult the intelligence, not to say the integrity, of the citizens of this old community at the outset of the campaign.

In accepting his nomination, the Liberal candidate asked for a clean campaign. It would be as well also to have a campaign that is politically honest.

ROBERT D. HARVEY, President,
Victoria Conservative Association.

VICTORIA'S BY-ELECTION

Sir.—Once again Victoria is to go to the polls, and once again the Liberals have, with one accord, opened their united mouth and put their collective foot in it!

"You won't get representation from the Liberal Government unless you send a Liberal to Ottawa!" has become once again the club with which the great Liberals threaten the voters of Victoria. It must be true. That, as many suspect, the Liberals as a whole, have become so injured to political domineering during their little flurry to power that they now even flaunt their weaknesses before, to them, the obedient public. Little do they think that some of our citizens may be unsophisticated enough to fail to appreciate their unjust omnipotence.

Send a Liberal to get representation indeed!

Do they infer that our representative members did not give us representation? Such inference is made ridiculous in the light of the late Dr. Toimie's strenuous struggle against the administration's imposition of ruinous harbor dues on this port, which struggle was successful. That was representation! To his deathbed, the late Mr. Toimie was actively engaged in real work, for his constituents visiting him shortly before his unfortunate death, I found him up to his ears in work, knowing, as he did, that his illness was serious.

Why bother, asks your contemporary, to add to the little group of Conservatives? Rather, it should have asked, why add to the overly large horde of obedient, yet threatening, whigs—the 178 little dictators!

Who shall we vote for? Mr. Mayhew, who we really must send to get attention from the Liberal machine; the stranger, or Mr. McKelvie? The choice is obvious. B. EDMON, 565 Yates Street, Victoria, B.C., November 12, 1937.

BUSES OR STREET CARS

Sir.—Several letters have lately appeared in the columns of the newspapers regarding the mooted change from street cars to buses. Well to the point most of these letters have been, yet there are still some phases that seem to have been overlooked, and which, in my opinion, should be considered. First, the street car is the workingman's (and woman's) conveyance. A housewife takes the car in order to do her shopping. She returns with sundry parcels and packages, some of a good size, which by courtesy of the very courteous car operators, she is allowed to carry home with her. This, with the style of bus now in use here, she cannot do. Second, unless the style of bus to be operated is very materially different from those now in use, discomfort will be the dominant feature. In the street cars, even though they may be of an old-fashioned type, one has ample room to stretch one's legs and comfortably relax without any crowding with two in a seat. In the bus one is squeezed tight by one's neighbor, while one's knees are tortured by the rail of the seat in front. My knees are yet raw from a bus ride I took some time ago, and I am not a very tall person. Third, how about the cost to travelers? Will one be able to ride, say from Oak Bay to Esquimalt, Cloverdale, Gonzales or elsewhere, for six cents transfer as we now can by street car? I fear not. Fourth, how about all the men now employed by the B.C.E.R.? The drivers, mechanics, road builders, etc.? Will all these men (and women, too) get jobs on the buses? If not, what is going to become of them and their families?

Under a bus system, the public pays for the upkeep of streets and roads so that they may operate. Under a car system, the operating company is put to the expense of laying and maintaining trackage, wiring, and all other connected incidents. It does not go to the authorities and demand that a road be repaired or altered so that their vehicles may run. I have heard some hard things said about the car service, but, in so far as I and my family are concerned, I can thankfully say that we have met with nothing but civility from an obliging car staff during our long residence in this district. People may perhaps do well to consider these few points before taking any hasty action.

WATER SUPPLY

Sir.—Some years ago the question of a water supply for the city was under discussion, and at the time I wrote on the use of the diver as a wise move on the part of the city, especially where volcanoes have to be drilled.

For many years the writer located well sites in the Okotoks and Turner Valley districts of Alberta. One of Alberta's biggest water flows was struck on the farm of Ernest J. Randall in the Arrowwood district. This flowing well was, and still is, excellent water. The City Council would be well advised to get in touch with the writer. Apart from a slight charge to cover transportation no charges whatever are made or expected.

NAVAL VETERANS

On Friday evening at 8 o'clock the regular meeting of the Naval Veterans' Branch, Canadian Legion, will be held in the headquarters, Broad Street.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of November 16, 1887.)

Delayed Train.—The train delayed by the washout near Harrison Station, on the Canadian Pacific Railway, arrived at Vancouver yesterday at 3 o'clock, and the passengers and mails were transferred to the steamer Louisa, which arrived at 10:30 o'clock last night. Among those who came on the steamer was R. G. Blair, from Kootenay, who will remain in town but a few days. He reports that the patients in Port Moody Hospital are convalescing. In Kootenay a large fire broke out in the city.

Late Ogle.—On Friday afternoon Mr. Vianco, of Westminster, had three hours' shooting off Phosphor's Pass. The rain overtook them and one of the boys was wounded. No lives were lost, but the loss and all the fighting gear to value of $100 was gone. Another boat, which belonged to the sporting party, under Captain Turner, C.E., got away from the steamer and, being driven ashore, was broken to pieces.

A Large Rupee.—A gold rupee, weighing over four ounces, was picked up at Boulder Creek, a little to the north of Granite Creek, and was taken to Kamloops by Rev. Father Lejeune. Father Lejeune says that from $3 to $5 is being earned by miners in

History Professor Speaks on Present Claim for Colonies

A. C. Cooke, University of British Columbia, Analyzes Situation of European Nations for University Extension Association Audience

GREATER than world politics was the question of colonies, Prof. A. C. Cooke, department of history, University of British Columbia, told a University Extension Association audience at Central Junior High School last evening. He spoke at length on "The Claim for Colonies: Are They Worth Fighting For?" Harry L. Smith, principal of Victoria High School, introduced the speaker.

Professor Cooke described how colonies were an advantage to a state or to individuals. On the surface, it looked as though all powers in Europe expected trouble, but if powers with colonies were strong enough, there might be no conflict. He thought the cry for colonies might be a blind, in that nations most directly concerned were after something else.

In outlining dissatisfaction of Germany, Italy and Japan in regard to lack of colonies, he stated

Britain practised trusteeship in many colonies, instead of exploitation for commercial advantage. If the interest was chiefly commercial, human resources were liable to be exploited with natural resources, Professor Cooke claimed.

Since the war, nations without colonies had been at an economic disadvantage. Migration was governed by climate, economic opportunity and immigration laws. Figures showed that the white population of colonies was quite small compared with native population. Although colonies were of importance, only 9.7 per cent of the world's exports and 8.1 per cent of imports were credited to them last year, he stated.

Colonies and mandates as markets were hedged in by foreign trade difficulties, preferential colonial import duties, open door areas, discriminatory export duties, restriction on exploitation, different legal systems, language and international restriction schemes. Sea lanes for trade had to be kept open by navies, he explained.

MANDATE EXPLAINED
In meeting the claim of nations for colonies, he discussed the direct transfer of territory as a colony or as a mandate. A mandate, he stated, was an obligation undertaken in regard to territory. Germany was

Dickens Fellowship Hears Major R. A. Donald—Annual Banquet Plans Made

Major R. A. Donald was the speaker at a meeting of the Dickens Fellowship Society in Victoria Women's Institute Rooms, Fort Street, last evening. He chose as the title of his paper, "A Literary Salad." The address dealt primarily with the history of the Thomas Bodley library at Oxford. Mr. Thomas was a well-known book collector. Although he had many volumes, Major Donald stated, none of them was allowed to be taken from his library, and even King James was forced to make a personal visit to this collection to obtain some information he sought in connection with his translation of the Bible.

When questioned as to his favorite type of literature, Major Donald said he preferred autobiography travel. He also mentioned several interesting volumes on this subject which he described well worth reading.

The speaker dealt briefly with the major works of many of the world's most outstanding writers. He purposefully refrained from referring to Dickens more than casually, as he explained a deviation from the latter's writings should prove interesting to members of the society.

It was arranged to hold the society's annual Christmas banquet and entertainment in Spencer's dining-room on Saturday, December 18. The entertainment will be in the form of a series of Dickensian tableau pictures.

COMMITTED TO HIGHER COURT

Saanich Youths Are Facing
Charge of Using Dynamite Dangerously

Charles Brown, Ernest Smith, and Frank Dunegan were all committed for trial at the preliminary hearing in the Saanich police court yesterday afternoon, upon charges of having broken and entered the garage of John Baran for the purpose of stealing therefrom ammunition and various other articles.

The three stand charged with another serious offence, that of exploding dynamite in such a way as to endanger life. The preliminary hearing in this latter case will be proceeded with at 2:30 on Thursday afternoon.

In the early part of the proceedings, the case of Graham Smith, a seventeen-year-old youth, was disposed of when C. H. Tait, Saanich prosecutor, asked leave to withdraw the charge of breaking and entering against this boy and laid a charge of stealing gun shells, the property of John Baran.

TOOK SEPARATE TRIAL

R. F. Bainbridge, who appeared as counsel for the youth, agreed to this procedure and entered a plea of guilty to the charge, electing speedy trial. Mr. Bainbridge asked for a separate trial for his client, which was granted.

Mr. Tait said the accused had, when interviewed by the police, told the truth evidently. After being found guilty of the offence on his own plea, his counsel asked for suspended sentence, which was granted.

URNS KING'S EVIDENCE

A somewhat sensational turn in the proceedings took place when Brown, the only one of the three without counsel, took objection to the evidence that Graham Smith was offering against the other three. Brown said that he wanted to go into the box then and tell the whole truth about the events connected with the alleged crime.

This was objected to by J. B. Clearhue, K.C., appearing for Frank Dunegan, on the ground that as there was a joint charge, this course could not be taken as it would prejudice his client's position.

W. H. M. Haldane, appearing as counsel for Ernest Smith, expressed a similar view. He never knew of such a course being taken.

The magistrate, however, said that while it was unusual, yet he knew of nothing to forbid the course being taken.

The evidence of Brown was accepted.

Weddings

THOMPSON-ASHTON

A quiet wedding took place at 2:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, 1904 Davis Street, in the presence of relatives and a few close friends, when Edna Ellen, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Ashton, became the bride of Mr. W. B. Thompson, only son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Thompson, Seattle. During the service, which was conducted by Rev. A. S. Smith, D.D., the bride and groom stood beneath an arch of white chrysanthemums and Oregon grape and a large white bell, between tall baskets filled with yellow and white chrysanthemums.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a white satin gown and a white halo hat, and held a shower bouquet of Talisman roses and carnations. In attendance was Miss Kathleen Hill, in a frock of aqua green net, and a floral bandeau in her hair. Her bouquet was of pink snapdragons and chrysanthemums. Mr. John Dillon was best man.

The guests were welcomed by Mrs. Ashton in a frock of royal blue crepe, assisted by Mrs. Thompson in navy blue, both wearing corsage bouquets of carnations and roses. The refreshment table was centered with the bride's cake, set in folds of pink tulle, between vases of pink carnations. After their honeymoon, for which the bride left in a smart rust and brown outfit, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson will make their home in Port Townsend. Among the gifts were cheques from the management and tenants of the Belmont Building, where the bride had been a long operator for a number of years.

CHOQUETTE-SMITH

A quiet wedding took place in the manse of Robertson Presbyterian Church, Vancouver, when Rev. Alex Elser united in marriage Florence Lorraine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Smith, Parkville, B.C., to Mr. Charles Roland Choquette, son of Mrs. Flora Choquette, Vancouver, and the late Joseph Choquette. The bride's attendants were her sister, Mrs. Irene Lemon, and little niece, Maureen Lemon, as flower girl. The groom was supported by Mr. Douglas Creek, who was united in marriage to Mrs. John Basil Jackson, son of Mr. John Basil Jackson, of Fairburn, Ga.

JACKSON-PARKE

A wedding of interest in the interior and on Vancouver Island took place on Saturday at St. Alban's Church, Ashcroft, when Dorothy Cecil, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Parqueson Parke, of Bonaparte Lodge, Galt, was united in marriage to Mr. John Basil Jackson, son of Mr. John Basil Jackson, of Fairburn, Ga.

The following officers were elected: President, K. Tipper; vice-president, P. G. Aldous and J. King; secretary, Miss E. Pettit; treasurer, A. Cullen; executive, R. Scott, Mesdames Druce, Silver, King and Tipper. Several matters were brought up for discussion, but were left over to the regular meeting, which will be held Friday evening at the school at 8 o'clock. All interested are invited to attend.

Malahat Veterans At Annual Reunion

SHAWNIGAN LAKE, Nov. 15.—The sixteenth annual veteran reunion dinner, held in the S.L.A. Hall on Friday evening, under the auspices of the Malahat Branch of the Canadian Legion, was as usual, a decided success. About eighty guests attended, including veterans from the immediate districts and representatives from Nanaimo, Duncan and Victoria.

The dinner, provided by W.A. members, was presided over by the president of the local legion branch, J. C. Rathbone, assisted by the past president, A. J. Duggan.

Bewigged Chemist Discovered Secret

MONTREAL, Nov. 15.—There would have been no delicate Dresden china shepherdesses, students of pottery have discovered, if a chemist in Dresden somewhere in the eighteenth century had worn a lightweight wig.

Europe, in the years following the introduction of tea imported its fine china teapots and cups from China, whence also came the tea. Manufacturers tried to discover the secret of making glazed porcelain without success.

Actually, discovery of the secret was an accident. A Dresden chemist, troubled by the weight of his wig, which was loaded with powder, in the course of experiments in search of a lighter substance, discovered that this powder, known as kaolin, was the foundation of fine porcelain.

From his discovery grew the china industry of Dresden. Every factory was governed by a rule of secrecy, but eventually the potteries of Worcester, Derby, Chelsea and Lowestoft came into possession of the formula, and today their products find their way to tea tables all over the world.

St. Andrew's Day Ball Is Arranged

Two weeks from today, all over the world Scots and their friends will celebrate St. Andrew's Day, and at the Empress Hotel bookings are already heavy for the annual St. Andrew's Cabaret Ball, when beneath the traditional blue and white banners of Scotland's patron saint, ancient reels and Highland dances will take place with modern swing.

The legends of St. Andrew as well as his accredited miracles are legion, but the height of his fame came when, as it is related in Leslie's History of Scotland, King James (modern version Angus) saw the cross of St. Andrew, that same de cussata cross on which the unfortunate fisherman was martyred, appeared to him in the sky on the eve of a terrific battle with the Saxon Athelstan. When next day King Angus soundly trounced Athelstan and the Saxon forces, the vision was deemed propitious and St. Andrew was formally adopted as the patron saint of Scotland with his memory day fixed on the calendar of the Church as November 30.

All of which seems good enough reason for social Victoria to dance at the forthcoming St. Andrew's Ball which, with plans for the procession in the hands of Mrs. Colin Rutherford and a dozen eighties already practicing reels for the occasion, bids fair to be unusually gay.

What Today Means

"SCORPIO"

If November 16 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:15 a.m. to 12:15 p.m., from 2:15 to 5:15 p.m., and from 8:15 to 10:15 p.m. The danger periods are from 8:15 to 10:15 a.m., from 6:15 to 8:15 p.m., and from 10:15 p.m. until midnight. You require good sportsmanship and optimism to get through this day successfully. Do not permit money to be a disturbing factor, for if you seek earnestly, solution can be found to every financial problem. Do not be too hasty in your judgment of anyone this day. If you investigate the cause of motive back of any disturbing action on anyone's part you are likely to discover it is due to some misunderstanding. Favoritism will be the cause of mistakes. Work and the actual results of labor alone should be taken into consideration in making your decision involving the question of personal merit. Married and engaged couples, as well as those contemplating taking into themselves a mate must be very careful this day that a desire to have their own way does not involve them in a quarrel.

EXCHANGING JOBS

A young English worker and an American worker are to exchange jobs, and were in cordial conversation with each other, as follows: "What's your like, your side of the Atlantic?" "Awful!" "Same here; what's the pay like?" "Awful!" "Same here. Do you like work?" "No!" "Same here. What's your boss like?" "Catmeal!" "Same here. Shake, pal!"

MISSION WORK COSTLY

TORONTO, Nov. 15.—Missionary work being carried on by the United Church of Canada costs $132 each minute of the day, the Women's Missionary Society said yesterday.

Now I am more mentally alert, am stronger physically, and free from rheumatism and pains, and I am no longer troubled with constipation." Naturally they think that these results can be obtained by everybody.

Many of these special diets call for raw foods entirely, and so the question arises, "What about raw foods?"

Raw rough foods such as cabbage, cauliflower, turnip, onions, bran, raw fruits; uncooked cereals have a fibrous portion which is not changed during digestion in stomach and small intestine thus when this fibrous or rough part reaches the large intestine it irritates the muscles of the large intestine causing them to work harder and so push the wastes from the food on and out of the body. Thus the esters of raw foods should be avoided by those troubled with constipation.

However, ordinary cooking does not do away completely with the hard or rough part of this fibrous material, and there is also a side (as it roughness) that stimulates the muscles of the intestine thus prevents constipation. Therefore a diet of raw foods is necessary to the average human individual who does physical

Dr. Chase's Ointment

Further, the high strung nervous individual with constipation followed by diarrhoea (mucous stools) due to "spasms" of the large intestine is going to have more spasms and distress if the large intestine is irritated by raw foods.

Now most of us do not do hard physical work or take much exercise, nor are most of us high strung nervous individuals. It would therefore, after all, be really wise for most of us to take "softer" large amounts of raw foods—fruits, vegetables, uncooked cereals—to help irritate and stimulate bowel action.

GORDIE DRILLON IS LEADING HOCKEY SCORERS

Boston, Amerks And Wings Win Hockey Tussles

Bruins Chalk Up 3-2 Victory Over Rangers While Dutton's Squad Blanks Montreal Maroons, 2-0, Before 15,000 Fans—Toronto Leafs Held to Tie by the Black Hawks

By The Canadian Press

Young, aggressive hockey clubs, Toronto Maple Leafs and Boston Bruins rode ahead of their sections of the National Hockey League today in a show of power that dulled the lustre of last year's champions.

It's not new for Leafs and Bruins to be striding out in front, for both headed their divisions in 1932-33 and 1934-35, and one or the other has led its section most other years since 1927-28. They were pushed well back in the shadows last season by Montreal Canadiens and Detroit, but if the young players develop as they should, the current leaders will be hard to keep out of another duel for the league championship.

Boston is tied with Chicago in the American section, but Bruins have started only twice and won twice, while Bill Stewart's Black Hawks have won once, drawn twice and lost twice in five starts. The Leafs have won two of their four games and tied the others.

The personalities of the top teams were elated a little more clearly during the week-end, when Toronto whipped Chicago, 7-3, at home and tied the Hawks, 3-3, in Chicago Sunday night, while Boston opened its home schedule with a 3-2 victory over New York Rangers. They attained new prominence in a week-end as furious shuffling as the season will bring.

Boston stepped to the front with Hawks while Detroit's world champion Red Wings advanced from fourth to third place by splitting two games with Canadiens, losing 5-2, in Montreal Saturday and winning, 2-1, in Detroit Sunday night. Rangers' loss sent them to the bottom. Leafs went farther ahead in the Canadian section as Americans leaped from last place to second through a 2-0 win over Montreal Maroons in New York Sunday night. Canadiens dropped to third spot, Maroons to fourth.

ROOKIES STAR

The youngsters were responsible for most of Boston's display of strength against Rangers, and the team faded in the late stages to maintain a bare lead. Bobby Bauer and Milt Schmidt of the "baby line" from Kitchener, Ont., got the first two Bruins' goals single-handed, and Bill Cowley ended the Boston scoring in the second period. Rangers were sparked into action by young Clint Smith, who passed to Butch Keeling for New York's first goal, six minutes before the finish, then handed Babe Pratt a pass while the defenseman drilled between Tiny Thompson's legs.

Big Charlie Conacher of the bullet shot, out of the game through injury most of last winter, supplied Toronto's main drive against the Hawks. He whipped in three of the seven goals on Saturday and two of the three last night.

Johnny Gottselig rapped in Paul Thompson's rebound in the third period to bring Chicago its draw and a single point in the two nights of scrimmaging. The teams were unable to score in overtime, in contrast to their Saturday night scoring flood, in which Harvey Jackson added two goals to Conacher's three.

Leafs might have added to their edge in that contest but they drew eight of the eleven penalties. The other game was tensely fought, though, and Chicago's 13,000 fans welcomed the even play and hard-hitting tactics.

Detroit had to come from behind to win on Hec Kilrea's third-period goal in the second tussle with Canadiens, after being thoroughly humiliated at Montreal in the first. Pete Kelly broke through the defence and handed the puck to Kilrea for the deciding counter after George Mantha had given the Habits an early lead and Johnny Sorrell had tied it up.

LEADS CANADIENS
Mantha and his linemates, Armand Mondou and Rod Lorrain, led the Canadiens to their unexpectedly decisive triumph on Saturday. After Herb Lewis and Marty Barry sent Detroit ahead 2-0, Mantha got Canadiens' first goal in the eighth minute of the second period. After that the Mantha-Mondou-Lorrain line and Aurel Joliat and Johnny Gagnon fairly flew to snow the Wings under.

Transformed into a league power through Red Dutton's off-season deals, Americans attacked 15,000 to Madison Square Garden, and they're bound to pack the place again if they keep up their fighting finishes. The amazing Amerks shot both their goals against Maroons in the first period and the game brought a fast minute between Hockey Smith, recent Dutton acquisition, and Jerry Shannon, of the Maroons. Another newcomer, Jack Shill, whipped home the first goal, and Nels Stewart sank the other, aided by Joe Jerwa. Earl Robertson, obtained from Detroit, turned in his second shutout in three starts for Americans.

BIG GALLERY HALTS DEBUT OF MONTAGUE

"Mystery Man" of Golf Quits At Ninth When 10,000 Fans Stampede

NEW YORK, Nov. 15 (AP).—The wildest, craziest golf gallery that ever stampeded through a sand-trap disrupted and finally broke up Sunday's charity exhibition at the Fresh Meadow Country Club, leaving the enthralling question of John Montague's golfing skill a mystery.

At the end of nine holes, when everybody concerned, including the 10,000 spectators, had enough, Montague and his blond partner, Sylvia Annenberg, were approximately two down to Babe Ruth and Babe Didrikson. Approximately is the word, for Montague was unable to play out two holes and none of the quartette managed to reach the short ninth green after having hit their tee shots.

It was wild and wooly from the start. Jim Braddock, the former heavyweight champion, left the premises in haste after battling through to the first two greens.

"I'm getting away from before I get a foot in my face," he said, desperately.

GALLERY RUNS WILD
Although 10,000 tickets had been sold at $1 apiece, no provision whatever was made to police the gallery. Practically all second shots, as a result, were hit over the crowd in the general direction of the green. For the actual putting, the four perspiring players were lucky to find a spot ten feet square. Babe Ruth, entering into the hilarious spirit of the occasion, used his putter like a billiard cue to drop a couple of short ones.

Considering the terrific handicap, they all did pretty well. The two Babes were only two over fours for the eight holes they were able to complete. Montague was four over for seven holes, which was nearly so bad as it sounds. Shooting into the crowd made him nervous, he admitted. Mrs. Annenberg, who had a special policeman to get her through to the greens, shot a string of six fives and a six.

It was first proposed to stage a long-driving contest in place of playing the second nine, but even that was abandoned when the officials realized they would only be borrowing more trouble. When Babe Ruth, with one shirt sleeve in tatters, finally fought his way to the clubhouse, he was gripping a niblick desperately.

"Well, if they never find my caddy, I've still got one club," he said grimly.

Heidelberg to Face Dominoes Saturday Night

SECRETARY Will Ritchie announced yesterday that the formidable Heidelberg basketball squad from Seattle will be here to oppose the Dominoes Saturday night at the High School gymnasium. The Sound City squad has one of the strongest line-ups in Seattle this season, according to information received here. "Chuck" Wagner, who played here with Alpine Dairy two weeks ago, is a regular with the Dominoes when they won their second Canadian senior basketball championship, and then went with the Dominoes to the Dominion final the following season at Windsor, was reported yesterday to have joined the touring House of David squad. Martin is expected to leave the city soon for the East, and will join the bearded boys, who are managed by George Johnson, at Chicago.

Although still in his early twenties, Martin has been playing senior ball in Victoria for several years.

ALBERT MARTIN

He graduated quickly from the intermediate ranks, and his first senior club was the old C.P.S. quintette, which disbanded a few years ago. "Red" then became a member of the Blue Ribbons and played a major role in bringing Victoria its second Canadian crown. Martin was with the club when it defeated Palmer McGee's Assumption College team in the final at the Willows.

"Red" Martin Will Soon Join Bearded Basketball Cagemen

Well-Known Victoria Senior Hoop Star Reported To Have Signed With House of David's Touring Team—Will Leave Soon for Eastern States

Albert "Red" Martin, who was a regular with the Blue Ribbons when they won their second Canadian senior basketball championship, and then went with the Dominoes to the Dominion final the following season at Windsor, was reported yesterday to have joined the touring House of David squad. Martin is expected to leave the city soon for the East, and will join the bearded boys, who are managed by George Johnson, at Chicago.

He graduated quickly from the intermediate ranks, and his first senior club was the old C.P.S. quintette, which disbanded a few years ago. "Red" then became a member of the Blue Ribbons and played a major role in bringing Victoria its second Canadian crown. Martin was with the club when it defeated Palmer McGee's Assumption College team in the final at the Willows.

TORONTO WINGMAN ONE POINT AHEAD OF HIS TEAMMATE

Last Season's Rookie Sensation Setting Pace in Canadian Division of National Hockey League —"Chuck" Conacher Is Second and Jackson Third—Barry Heads American Section

MONTREAL, Nov. 15 (AP).—Gordon Drillon, Toronto Maple Leaf rookie sensation of last winter, leads the parade of the National Hockey League point-getters in the first official scoring statistics issued by the league tonight.

The young Toronto winger, in less than a fortnight of campaigning, has bagged four goals and four more points on assists for a one-point margin over his teammate, Charlie Conacher. The big bomber has five goals and a brace of assists. Conacher's sharpshooting also put him at the top of the league in actual goals. Tied with Drillon for second place in this category is Harvey Jackson, still another Leaf, whose four goals and one assist also put him in a third place tie for total point honors.

Marty Barry, of Detroit Red Wings, with three and two, and Doc Romnes, of Chicago Black Hawks, with two and three, are the others tied for third in the point list.

Just to help make it pretty much of a sweep for the Leafs, Drillon and one more teammate, Defenseman Red Horner, are in a first place tie with Paul Thompson, of the Hawks, for most assists. Each has helped out on four goals.

In the penalty list, where Horner used to shine, Montreal Canadiens and Maroons split the doubtful honors. Baldy Northcott, of Maroons, and Babe Siebert, of the Canadiens, each has spent 25 minutes on the bench, mostly because of a fast fight here last Thursday night.

GOLF DINNER IS CANCELED

Complimentary Affair for Henry Cotton Called Off Due to Non-Support

LONDON, Nov. 15 (AP).—Henry Cotton, Great Britain's open golf champion, said his usual unflinching self today, although a complimentary dinner planned in his honor was canceled for lack of acceptances.

Cotton failed to turn up for the final day's play in a tourney at Southend, so the sports world refused to turn up at the testimonial banquet.

"You can't please everyone all the time," Cotton commented.

Explaining his withdrawal from the tourney, he said:

"Like everyone else, I enter to win a prize. If I am not doing well I am entitled to cut my losses. Any way, the spectators still flock to see my play, and wherever I go I seem to have friends aplenty."

COMMUNITY CONCERTS
PLANNED FOR WINTER

Why should the Community Concerts idea be a good one for Victoria? There is every reason for it being a source of pleasure and profit, not only because it involves no financial risk to the sponsors,
but also for the reason it secures good music, capacity audiences and a permanent guarantee of the season's music.

Community Concerts, a subsidiary of the Columbia Broadcasting Company, has proven a boon to places
the size of Victoria, because in no other way can there be assurance of at least three concerts each season at a nominal price.

STIRLING IS TOP SCORER FOR SEASON

Veteran Star of Sarnia Imperials Heads Grid Players for Year

TORONTO, Nov. 15 (P.)—Hall the Bumster, listed on football programmes as Hugh Stirling, as the East's scoring champion of 1937,
nine better than University of To-ronto's ace outscored college and Big Four gridder despite an Ontario Union season two weeks shorter than the others.

The final Canadian Press scoring summary lists Stirling atop the Ontario Union with thirty-six points,
nine better than University of To-ronto's Cam Gray, held scoreless for the first time this season when Queen's blanked the Blues, 3-0, last Saturday. Tiny Herman of Ottawa, led the Interprovincial Union with twenty-three points. The O.R.F.U.
schedule ended last week.

Showing the Bumster's versatility,
his total included two touchdowns,
three field goals, eleven angles and six converts. Neither Gray nor Herman crossed the opposing line,
gaining the majority of their points
through placement field goals.

IN SECOND PLACE
A last-game drive by Art West, Argonaut backfield, moved him into second place behind Herman with a twenty-one-point total. West scored two touchdowns and a convert against Hamilton while Annis Stukas, a teammate, booted two field goals and a single for a total of eighteen points and third place.

Two Queen's men, Bernie Thornton and Johnny Munro, finished behind Gray. Thornton, place-kick specialist, was second with sixteen points and Munro, whose punting defeated Toronto Saturday to force a play-off for the college title, had fourteen.

Colin Cameron, M.P.P., Tells
Gyros Private Ownership
Must Be Challenged

Colin Cameron, M.P.P. for Comox,
in an address to members of the Gyro Club yesterday in the Empress Hotel, declared that the time was fast approaching when there must be a real challenge to the rights of private ownership as it existed.

He traced the movements which had taken place within the British lands looking to the elevation of the great mass of the people. There had always been absent the idea that one should speak for the whole nation. There had always been a feeling in Great Britain that each man had functions to perform, he stated.

With the coming of the industrial era in the country, there came a change in the thought of the people.
Employment of children in the mines and of women and men under slavish conditions had won men like Lord Shaftesbury to seek to awaken the nation from these evils. Then there came to the fore the trades union movement.

DEVELOPMENT OF LIBERTY
Mr. Cameron asserted that the attempts at the repression of the movements to demand better conditions had been met with the Botany Bay scandalous deportations.
Human beings had been sent
there by the rescue of one man from a trades union. Public opinion was so aroused that the Government had to commute the sentences.

The demand today was to see that economic security was not enough to hand down to the coming generation. Human rights, and values must take precedence over property.
In British Columbia there was an example facing them today along this line when the chief forester had warned the Province that the lumber industry was nearing extinction. The right of private ownership would have to be challenged in this respect. The challenge was coming more and more to the fore
as not being in line with democracy, Mr. Cameron concluded.

Vancouver Man Lecturing Here

The Victoria Centre of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada will hold a meeting of special interest on Wednesday in the Y.W.C.A. at 8 p.m., when Dr. D. B. Buchanan, dean of the faculty of arts and science and professor of mathematics in the University of British Columbia, will give a lecture.

Professor Buchanan, a fellow of the Royal Society of Canada and a member of numerous scientific societies, is an eminent mathematician and is well known for his investigations into certain branches of celestial mechanics. His lecture will be "Measuring the Universe," in the course of which he will describe methods of determining the distances from the earth to various astronomical bodies and modern conceptions regarding the size and extent of the cosmos.

PREMIER CUTS LINK
OPENING NEW BRIDGE

The Pipe Band of the Seaford
Highlanders, the internationally-known Kildarno Boys' Band, and two military bands joined in the procession as it passed over the four-lane bridge. At the centre, officials left their cars amid a shower of melting snow from the upper spans mixed with sleet.

After declaring the bridge open to traffic and "trusting that good luck may follow all who cross it with legitimate intent," the Premier picked up a torch and severed the links of a chain. Cutting of the centre link signalled the formal opening of the bridge which carries the Pacific Highway across the Fraser River into New Westminster, about fifteen miles from Vancouver.

SYMBOL OF EXPANSION
A few minutes before, speaking from a canvas-covered platform at the span's centre, the Premier said
he trusted "this massive structure may be the symbol of a breadth of vision and a practical fulfilment thereunder in the future expansion and upbuilding of our glorious province."

Mr. MacPherson, speaking previously, expressed his pride in being Minister of Public Works during the bridge's construction.

The bridge, which took less than a year to construct, required use of 5,300 tons of structural steel, 1,600 tons of reinforcing steel, 62,000 cubic yards of concrete, 180,000
cubic yards of earth excavation, 100,000 barrels of cement and 2,900-
000 board feet of timber.

BRIDGE DIMENSIONS
Total length, inclusive of the overland approaches, is 7,900 feet.
Providing a 46-foot road with lanes
for four rows of traffic and sidewalk. The shipping channel is 438 feet wide with a clearance of 150 feet.

Tolls, which go into effect tomorrow, are 25 cents for a passenger car. Tickets bought by the month are $3.00 for passenger cars and $1.00 a ton for trucks; the minimum being $5.00 a month for trucks up to and inclusive of five-ton vehicles.

SURVIVORS RECOUNT
HARROWING DETAILS

last fifteen survivors of the crew
of twenty-eight.

SAVED FROM SHARK
Commander Henry Coyle, master of the Mendocino, relayed a graphic story told by the rescue of one man
being pulled bodily through his life-belt by a shark.

Joseph Corrie, forty-nine-year-old Englishman, who said he was the last to step from the doomed vessel, and the last to be picked up of those adrift, told of sharks darting at his ankles and of scaring them away with a stick.

Overturned lifeboats, swept from the deck before they could be lowered, floated uselessly near the exhausted sailor when found.

Konstantinos Balakias, third engineer, who like his Greek fellows spoke through interpreters, said the SOS, shortly before daybreak Saturday, was sent only after he stood over the radio operator with a knife and a threat to kill him unless the distress call went out.

MISUNDERSTOOD ORDER
The operator failed to send the SOS through a misunderstanding of the captain's order, the master said. It was under the threat of the knife, however, Balakias declared, that the call finally went out.

The search ended Sunday with the location of the last fifteen and the bodies of four dead. Six survivors were picked up Saturday by the steamer Seaford and the bodies of three were not recovered.

LITTLE SHIP MAKES PORT

Yawl Teal, From Honolulu,
Here After Cruise of
B.C. Waters

On her first visit to Victoria, the little trans-Pacific yawl Teal slipped into the harbor over the week-end, with her skipper, Roy P. Durhack, and Mate Francis Langdon, aboard. The young sailorman left Honolulu last Spring for Bremerton, accompanied by Miss Hedden, of the Hawaiian port, who has since returned home.

The Teal took thirty-one days from Honolulu to Port Angeles. They made their landfall well up the coast of Vancouver Island, making more north-drift than they had reckoned on. The trip had its exciting moments. Skipper Durhack stated last night. Stays were snapped and the after-mast cracked away in heavy weather. Both Durhack and Langdon praised the seamanship of the woman member of the crew, who took her trick at the wheel in all kinds of weather, and was the first to detect the approach to the land, when she detected kelp and traveling seals. Being former residents of the Northwest, the fir-clad hills of Vancouver Island and the Washington coast were a welcome sight to the seafarers.

Reaching Bremerton, the objective of their trip when they left Hawaii, Durhack and Langdon had a new motor installed and started for a summer of cruising in British Columbia waters. They visited a number of the big inlets, and are loud in praise of the British Columbia scenery and the hospitality of all people whom they met. Returning to Bremerton, the adventure-urge was too strong, and they set out again for more cruising. This time they came into Victoria with several passengers aboard, Miss Ruth Ring, Mrs. Verna Pedersen and Herman Jacobs, all of Bremerton. Skipper Durhack's guests returned to their work-a-day world at Bremerton via Seattle aboard the St. Princess Marguerite.

AT LOCAL DOCK

The visit of the Teal and her crew to Victoria was really for the purpose of holding a reunion with Skipper George Dibbern and Mate Murdoch, of the Te. Repunga, and through the interest of George Willis, of Enterprise Wharf, the friends, who first met in Honolulu, came together again, the two boats now lying side-by-side at the local dock.

Skipper Durhack, who is a technical expert in nautical and optical instruments, was in the employ of the United States Government at Honolulu for six and one-half years. Now he doesn't quite know which is the better job, working at nautical instruments or "shooting" the sun through one. At any rate, he is going to spend a few weeks visiting with Skipper Dibbern and after that—well, it depends, he stated. He and Mate Langdon may be sailing southward again any time.

FITTING SKIS TO MONOPLANE

Heavy Snowfall at Edmonton Solves Problem of Flyers' Take-Off

EDMONTON, Nov. 15.—All-metal skis were being fitted today to the huge Lockheed monoplane that will carry Sir Hubert Wilkins and his aerial search party into the Arctic in search of six Russian air-men last since August 13 on a trans-polar flight.

Change of the landing gear was expected to be completed early tomorrow, when a short flight over the airport is planned to test the $10,000 skis.

Heavy snowfall over the week-end solved the problem of a take-off from Edmonton Airport, but lack of thick ice on northern lakes and rivers delayed departure on the 1,750-mile flight northwest to Akivik, N.W.T.

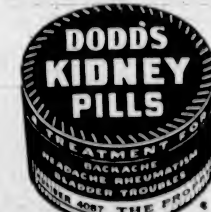

Sir Hubert said ice a foot thick was needed for safe landing of the heavy monoplane and the route to Akivik will depend on ice and weather conditions.

Trouble in the wireless equipment, discovered during the flight to Edmonton, Saturday, from Regina, has been eliminated and further tests were being made today.

Legion at Salt Spring Holds Annual Dinner

GANGES, Nov. 15.—The Salt Spring Island branch of the Canadian Legion held its annual Armistice dinner on Thursday evening at Harbor House here. About sixty guests were present, several attending from adjacent islands.

In the absence of the president, Capt. M. E. Macintosh, M.P.P., the chair was taken by the vice-president, Gavin G. Mount.

Belgian King Has Arrived On State Visit

LONDON, Nov. 15.—Leopold III, King of the Belgians, will arrive here tomorrow on a state visit. The Duke of Gloucester will greet him at Dover when the King arrives there in the yacht Prince Albert, which will be escorted by British destroyers. Belgian Ambassador Baron de Cartier de Marchienne will also go to Dover for the reception.

The Duke will accompany King Leopold to London, where King George VI will meet his royal guest at Victoria station. The two Kings will drive in a carriage procession from the station to Buckingham Palace.

LACKS PROOF OF DROWNING

U.S. Commissioner States
Officers of Freighter Algic
Will Be Freed

BALTIMORE, Nov. 15 (AP).—Two officers of the strike-bound freighter Algic will be freed tomorrow of manslaughter charges unless proof of the drowings of Seaman Howard V. Gill at Victoria, Brazil, is established. Commissioner James K. Cullen said today. The officers are Second Mate Ernest B. Walters and Third Mate John F. Pike.

Four sailors who brought the complaint against the officers testified they heard cries for help and were denied permission to launch a lifeboat. They said none of them saw their shipmate sink or saw his body.

The crew members are among eighteen facing charges of mutiny during the South American voyage.

INDIAN BROOM RACES TODAY

Austin Taylor's Colt Will Go
To Post in $2,000 Event
At Tanforan

SAN BRUNO, Cal., Nov. 15.—Indian Broom, a world-record holder, and Alviso, an Argentine thoroughbred, share top weight of 115 pounds in the $2,000 Added Tanforan Opening Day Handicap—the speed feature which ushers in the twenty-five-day Fall meeting here tomorrow.

Although Indian Broom holds the world mark for a mile and one-eighth, he is a horse with blazing early speed and can sprint with the best of them. His start marks his return to racing after having been rested up during the summer.

Alviso is likewise a record holder, having established the 1:09 4-5 mark at Bay Meadows several seasons ago. Three horses—The Fighter, Glenman and Happy Bolivar—are held next in esteem by the handicapper. They are evenly weighted at 113 pounds. All three are topinners and in splendid form.

It is interesting to note that Sea Rover, an Argentine thoroughbred who makes his American debut in the opening day handicap, is ranked on a par with the hard-hitting sprinter, Lady Bowman, and the vastly-improved High Vite. All three have been given 10 pounds. Sea Rover is not considered strictly a sprinter, but he has been sharpened up and has turned in some fast trials.

PROCEEDING RESTRAINED

Question of Jurisdiction Enters
Case of Seized Canadian Fisherman

SEATTLE, Nov. 15 (AP).—United States Federal Judge Jeremiah Neuner today restrained G. W. Hamilton, State Attorney-General, from proceeding in Clallam County Superior Court against the Canadian fishing vessel Bessie Mac.

The ship was seized August 31 by Washington state fisheries inspectors off Cape Rock, on charges of fishing in state waters.

Judge Neuner also refused the British Columbia Packers, Ltd., permission to regain possession of the Bessie Mac, gave Hamilton until Friday to file briefs, and set November 28 for determining whether the case must be heard only in Federal District Court.

WILL SPEAK THURSDAY

Rev. A. E. Smith, who has just returned from Spain, and Sergeant Wally Dent, the twenty-three-year-old youth who was returned wounded, will speak at the C.C.P. Hall, 724 Fort Street, on Thursday at 8 p.m., under the auspices of the friends of the Mackenzie-Papineau battalion in Spain. This tour is in conjunction with the drive to give every member of the battalion a Christmas parcel from Canada.

The small boy who had seen the accident was put in the witness box. "Now," said the judge kindly, "do you know the nature of an oath?" "Yes," replied the little man, "I'm a caddy."

MOVING INTO NEW OFFICES

American Mail Line Has Taken Corner Location in Belmont Building

Familiar steamship signs of the transportation section of Government Street will vanish from the thoroughfare level at the end of the year, it was learned yesterday. On January 1, the American Mail Line and affiliated Dollar companies will be housed in the first floor corner suite of the Belmont Block. Arrangements for this change were made last week-end, according to W. M. Allan, local representative of the affiliated companies.

The American Mail Line has been located in uptown offices since 1922, when it took up quarters on the northeast corner of Government and Yates Streets. There for three years, the company moved into its present location during 1925. Prior to 1922, the business for the companies was transacted at R. P. Rithet & Company's premises, Wharf Street, where the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, a Dollar subsidiary in recent years, had its headquarters since the early 1880's.

The decision to leave the Government Street premises would seem to indicate that the coast service which was operated for many years between Wilmington, San Francisco, Victoria and Seattle will be abandoned indefinitely. If the company should decide to resume the California service at any future time, it will necessitate more convenient offices for booking prospective passengers, but, in the meantime, Seattle executives of the company believe that the trans-Pacific business originating in Victoria can be handled just as conveniently one floor above the ground as on the street level.

VETERAN PURSER TAKEN SUDDENLY

G. E. Brown, Member of Pioneer Victoria Family, Passes Away At Nanaimo on Sunday

NANAIMO, Nov. 15 (P).—George Edward Brown, member of a pioneer Victoria family and a veteran official of the Canadian Pacific Railway's coastal steamship service, died suddenly at his home here today.

He was fifty-nine years old and had been wharf agent here since 1912.

Born and educated in Victoria, Mr. Brown entered the employ of the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway when seventeen years old. Later he transferred to the steamship branch of the railway company and served as purser on the old steamers Charmer, City of Nanaimo and Princess Joan.

When the C.P.R. bought out the Dunsmuir interests in the Island railway, Mr. Brown served as purser on Canadian Pacific coastal boats until 1912, when he was appointed wharf agent here. Prior to his appointment, he was the first purser on the Princess Patricia, turbine vessel constructed in Great Britain and brought here for service on the Nanaimo-Vancouver run.

Surviving are his widow, one son, Alvin, here, and a sister, Miss Frances Brown, Victoria. His father was Henry Brown, pioneer Victoria merchant.

He was prominent in Masonic circles, past master of Doric Lodge, past principal of Royal Arch Masons and past preceptor of the Knights Templar. Funeral services will be held here on Wednesday.

SCOFFS AT STORIES ABOUT HER HUSBAND BEING STILL ALIVE

NEW YORK, Nov. 15 (P).—Mrs. Paul Redfern, wife of the aviator who disappeared ten years ago on a flight from Georgia to Brazil, said today she would appeal to Michigan courts to have him declared legally dead.

She scoffed at stories that her husband might still be alive.

DISLOCATED ELBOW LED TO NEURITIS

Could Not Straighten Her Arm

Four months ago, this woman dislocated her left elbow. Although the elbow was properly set, she developed neuritis and could not straighten her arm. She was ordered to take Kruschen— with the happy result described in this letter:

"I had an accident four months ago, and my elbow was seriously dislocated. Fortunately, it was set right there and then but, afterwards, I could not straighten the arm to its full extent. It was X-rayed, and the surgeon told me I was inclined to be rheumatic. I was ordered to take Kruschen Salts—one teaspoonful in a glass of hot water on waking. Now I am getting along famously. The pain in my elbow is better, and daily I am able to extend the arm more easily."—(Mrs.) P.

Rheumatic conditions are often the result of an excess of uric acid in the body. Two of the ingredients of Kruschen Salts have the power of dissolving uric acid crystals. Other ingredients assist Nature to expel these dissolved crystals through the natural channels. (Adv.)
